Industry leaders from the Georgia Ports Authority, Georgia Power, Efacec, Mitsubishi, Target and other area companies impacted by the logistical success of the Savannah Port will join technical college and secondary school leadership to discuss the partnerships that create the world-class workforce needed by their companies. In the afternoon, Lt. Governor Cagle will discuss the workforce needs with two of our state's top employers, Kia and Gulfstream. He will also join students as they share their thoughts on educational opportunities that provide a pathway to success.

Friday, November 15 (at 9:00A.M.)

- Where: Liberty College & Career Academy: 245 Dorsey Road, Hinesville, GA 31313
This day will provide the opportunity for communities who have or are considering a College and Career Academy to join Academy CEOs and other business and education leaders as we discuss the work of the Georgia College & Career Academy Network (GCCAN), how to build better business partnerships, Career Academy "Best Practices Showcase," and how we make college affordable by increasing dual enrollment.
